OCCUPATIONAL HEALTHCARE

Heltti offers comprehensive occupational health services for both organizations and individuals. Services for organizations include planning and reporting, such as occupational action plans, workplace assessments, ergonomic consulting, and collaboration with the workplace. Services aimed at individuals focus on work ability evaluation and management, including occupational health and work ability consultations, medical certificates, statutory health check-ups, and vaccinations. First aid training is also part of the offering.

Statutory occupational health care

Workplace Assessment

case-specific

The Workplace Assessment service provides a comprehensive evaluation of working conditions, identifies potential health and safety risks, and maps out the state of employee well-being. Our experts interview employees, examine workspaces and processes, and analyze occupational health care data. The Workplace Assessment report compiles observations and concrete recommendations for preventing problems and improving working conditions and employee well-being.

Action Plan

case-specific

The occupational healthcare action plan is a tailored plan to promote the health and well-being of an organization's employees. The action plan utilizes the findings from workplace assessments, implements concrete measures to support work ability and prevent risks, and agrees on clear monitoring and evaluation methods. Our service ensures that occupational health care is aligned with your company's goals and supports your employees' well-being in the best possible way.

Targeted Workplace Assessment

case-specific

The Targeted Workplace Assessment focuses on specific problem areas or work tasks, offering deeper analysis and tailored solutions. The service helps to identify areas for development, prevent problems, and improve the work environment and employee well-being.

Information, Advice, and Guidance

case-specific

The service provides comprehensive support for questions related to workplace health, safety, and well-being. Our experts offer tailored information, advice, and guidance to individuals, workgroups, and the entire organization. Our service provides you with up-to-date information on occupational health, safety, and well-being, as well as support for maintaining and promoting work ability. The goal is to increase awareness, develop skills, and support positive attitudes and practices that promote the well-being and productivity of the work community.
